

MESSAGE SENT IN ON MONDAY

To Congress Is More Moderate Than Is Customary With Roosevelt Documents.

CONGRESS ASKED TO TAKE ACTION

Desires Powers Of Interstate Commerce Commissions Enlarged And Suggests Federal Restrictions Of All Traffic—An Incorporation Act.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., April 28.—President Roosevelt has sent another message to congress in which he calls attention to many matters of importance in needed legislation. The message is by far the most temperate of any sent in the two houses in several months and deals with questions which will probably be brought up for a vote before the adjournment of the present session.

To the Senate and House of Representatives:
In my message to the Congress of March 25, 1908, I outlined certain measures which I believe the majority of our countrymen desire to have enacted into law at this time. These measures do not represent by any means all that I would like to see done if I thought it possible, but they do represent what I believe can now be done in an earnest effort toward this end.

Since I wrote this message an employers' liability law has been enacted which, it is true, comes short of what might have been done, but which does represent a real advance. Apparently there is good ground to hope that there will be further legislation providing for recompensing all employees who suffer injury while engaged in the public service; that there will be a child-labor law enacted for the District of Columbia; that the Waterways Commission will be continued with sufficient financial support to increase the effectiveness of its preparatory work; that steps will be taken to provide for such investigation into tariff conditions, by the appropriate committee of the House of Representatives and by Government experts in the Executive service, as will secure the full information necessary for immediate action in revising the tariff at the hands of the Congress elected next fall; and finally, that the national legislation will be enacted providing for temporary measures for meeting any trouble that may arise in the next year or two, and for a commission of experts who shall thoroughly investigate the whole matter, both here and in the great commercial countries abroad, so as to be able to recommend legislation which will put our financial system on an efficient and permanent basis. It is much to be wished that one feature of the financial legislation of this session should be the establishment of postal savings banks. Ample appropriation should be made to enable the Interstate Commerce Commission to carry out the very important feature of the Hepburn law which gives to the Commission supervision and control over the accounting systems of the railroads. Failure to provide means which will enable the Commission to examine the books of the railroads would amount to an attack on the law at its most vital point, and would, as nothing else could benefit, those railroads which are corruptly or incompetently managed. Forest reserves should be established throughout the Appalachian Mountain region wherever it can be shown that they will have a direct and real connection with the conservation and improvement of navigable rivers. There seems, however, much doubt about two of the measures I have recommended: the measure to do away with abuse of the power of injunction and the measure or group of measures to strengthen and render both more efficient and more wise the control by the National Government over the great corporations doing an interstate business. First, as to the power of injunction and of punishment for contempt. In contempt cases, save where immediate action is imperative, the trial should be before another judge. As regards injunctions, some such legislation as that I have previously recommended should be enacted. They are blind who fail to realize the extreme bitterness caused among large bodies of worthy citizens by the use that has been repeatedly made of the power of injunction in labor disputes. Those in whose judgment we have most right to trust are of the opinion that while much of the complaint against the use of the injunction is unwarranted, yet that it is unquestionably true that in a number of cases this power has been used to the grave injury of the rights of laboring men. I ask that it be limited in some such way as that I have already pointed out in my previous messages, for the very reason that I do not wish to see an unhindered effort made to destroy it. It is unwise stubbornly to refuse to provide against a repetition of the abuses which have caused the present unrest. In a democracy like ours it is to expect permanently to thwart the determination of the great body of our citizens. It may be and often is the highest duty of a court, a legislature, or an executive, to resist and defy a gust of popular passion; and most certainly no public servant, whatever may be the consequences to himself, should yield to what he thinks wrong. But in a question which is practically one of public policy, the policy which the public demands is sure in the end to be adopted; and a persistent refusal to grant to a large portion of our people what is right, is only too apt in the end to result in causing such irritation that when the right is obtained in the course of a movement so ill considered and violent as to be accompanied by much that is wrong. The process of the injunction in labor disputes, as well as the determination of the state laws, should be used sparingly, and only when there is the clearest necessity for it; but it is one so necessary to the efficient performance of duty by the court on behalf of the Nation that it is in the highest degree to be regretted that it should be liable to reckless use; for this reckless use tends to make honest men desire to hamper its execution as to destroy its usefulness.

HORRIBLE DEATH IN MILWAUKEE TANNERY

Frank Otto Crushed to Death Between a Beam and a Huge Roller.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Wis., April 28.—In the twinkling of an eye Frank Otto's life was crushed out in the Albert Treated tannery on Commerce street this morning. Caught between a tanning drum and a beam his body was compressed at the point of contact, and when the machinery was stopped his mangled and lifeless body lay on the floor a mangled object of awe. He was a single man thirty-five years old and resided with his brother at 89 Locust street.

FINANCIAL TROUBLE CAUSES A SUICIDE

George Weillmer of Manitowish Kills Himself With a Shot Gun This Morning.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Manitowish, Wis., April 28.—Shooting a farewell to his daughter, George Weillmer, an aged resident of the West Side, committed suicide this morning while in bed, using a single barrel shot gun for the deed. The act was prompted by despondency over financial difficulties and by drink. Weillmer was up all night about the house and retired at an early hour this morning. At half past six when his daughter called him he replied, "Good-bye," and then killed himself. The charge penetrated the breast and shattered the heart. He was sixty years of age and was formerly well to do but he had dissipated his wealth by drinking the past three or four years.

EMINENT PRELATES CELEBRATED MASS

Pontifical High Mass Celebrated at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, April 28.—In the presence of the largest and most notable congregation that ever crowded St. Patrick's Cathedral and one of the greatest gatherings of dignitaries of the Roman Catholic church that ever assembled in America, the centennial celebration of the diocese of New York had its crowning feature this morning in a pontifical high mass of thanksgiving for a century of work. Cardinal Logie, Archbishop of Armagh, was the celebrant, and Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop of Baltimore, preached the sermon.

Tonight the cathedral is to be the scene of another impressive ceremony, when solemn pontifical vespers will be celebrated by the Most Rev. Dionardo Falconio, D. D., apostolic delegate, with Archbishop Glennon of St. Louis as the preacher.

ANNUAL DEBATE ON FOR THIS EVENING

Universities of Kansas and Missouri Will Meet at Lawrence Tonight.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Lawrence, Kans., April 28.—The annual debate between representatives of the University of Kansas and the University of Missouri takes place here this evening and is attracting much attention, owing to the old-time rivalry between the two institutions. The question is: "Resolved, That all elective state, district, county and municipal officers should be nominated by direct primaries held under state resolution."

The Missouri debaters, upholding the negative, are D. A. Smith and Henry Elliott. The Kansas debaters are Frank L. Tyler and F. W. Brimbergh.

TALKS OF PLANS FOR A CAMPAIGN

ON THE PART OF WISCONSIN DEMOCRATS.

M'GOVERN BRINGS NEWS

Milwaukee's Candidate For the Senate Talks Relative to the Project.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., April 28.—Realizing the impossibility of defeating Governor Davidson for a re-election should he be nominated by the republican party, it is said that the democrats have organized a movement to go in to the republican primaries and vote for ex-Senator S. M. Becker of Milwaukee, because he is "the weakest candidate that could be picked out, and therefore the easiest for the democrats to beat." A supplementary part of the plan is to nominate a Norwegian as the democratic candidate for governor. This story was brought to Madison, it is said, by F. E. McGovern, district attorney of Milwaukee, candidate for United States senator and a faithful follower in the past of R. M. La Follette. The story is discounted here for three main reasons. It is said that even with democratic votes Becker could not defeat Davidson in the republican primaries, but that he should demonstrate sufficient strength to carry the primaries he certainly would be elected with the full republican strength coming out as it will in a presidential election. It is also said by democrats who attended the state convention some time ago in Milwaukee that the "unaffiliated" party is determined to confine itself to purely democratic politics and not meddle with republican affairs, as was done several times when La Follette succeeded in "benevolently assimilating" thousands of democratic voters.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Detroit, Mich., April 28.—Although frightened away before they succeeded in getting any money, five burglars early today caused about four thousand dollars' worth of damage in the bank of Henry & Co. at Mecosta, Mich. A tremendous charge of dynamite with which they tried to crack the safe blew out into the street the front of the bank and wrecked the interior.

SIX STATE CONVENTIONS TAKE PLACE THIS WEEK

Republicans And Democrats Of Several States Gather To Elect National Delegates.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Pueblo, Colo., April 28.—More than 700 delegates and as many visitors crowded the Grand opera-house in this city today when the republican state convention was called to order at 11 o'clock by Chairman John F. Vialva of the state committee. The convention will select six delegates and six alternates to the national convention. It is accepted as a foregone conclusion that the Roosevelt administration and the candidacy of Secretary Taft will be endorsed.

G. O. P. Divided In Carolina
Columbia, S. C., April 28.—About 125 delegates, the great majority of them negroes, assembled here today for the state convention of the United Republican party of South Carolina. The convention is to name delegates at large and alternates to go to Chicago.

Chairman Edmund H. Doss of the state committee is an anti-administration man and is supposed to favor a Foraker or Hughes delegation and is believed to be willing to go as far as supporting a resolution condemning President Roosevelt for the Brownsville affair. The influence of Captain John G. Capers, United States commissioner of internal revenue and republican national committeeman from South Carolina, is expected, however, to prevail against any attempt on the part of the convention to condemn the president. There is also a considerable faction among the negroes who are opposed to Doss and in favor of endorsing Secretary Taft. It is possible that a compromise will be reached by sending an unfranchised delegation to the national convention.

MISSISSIPPI REPUBLICANS GATHER IN JACKSON

Convention of the State Gathers in the City of the Confederacy.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Jackson, Miss., April 28.—Republicans of Mississippi met in state convention in this city today to name delegates to the national convention. The administration followers have the upper hand and will put through resolutions endorsing President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft in spite of the objection of a small but active minority that is understood to favor Foraker.

NEW JERSEY DEMOCRATS MEET IN TRENTON

Democratic State Convention Assembled Here Today to Select Delegates at Large to the National Convention.

Trenton, N. J., April 28.—The democratic state convention assembled here today to select the delegates at large to the national convention. Nearly 1,000 delegates filled the State street theater when the convention was called to order. Among the delegates there appeared to be no pronounced sentiment in favor of any one of the presidential aspirants, more interest being taken in the make-up of the "big four" and in various questions relating more closely to home politics. All signs point to an unfranchised delegation.

CONNECTICUT DEMOCRATS MEET IN NEW HAVEN

Democratic State Convention Assembled Here Today to Select Delegates at Large to the National Convention.

New Haven, Conn., April 28.—Leading democrats of Connecticut have gathered in this city in readiness for the state convention, which will hold a preliminary session in the New Haven theater tonight for the purpose of effecting a temporary organization. Tomorrow morning the convention will reassemble to choose fourteen delegates to represent Connecticut at the Denver convention.

Alexander Thirup and other recognized leaders of the Bryan element are busy in behalf of the Nebraska's candidacy for the presidential nomination. Though Mr. Bryan has a stronger following in Connecticut than in any other part of New England, it is not regarded as probable that the state convention will instruct for him. The indications are that the Connecticut delegation will contain men pledged to Mr. Bryan and others who go unpledged, according to the sentiment of their home districts.

West Virginia Republicans
Parkersburg, W. Va., April 28.—Republicans of West Virginia are to meet in state convention tomorrow to select their delegates to the national convention. Whether the convention will send an instructed delegation is not definitely decided. The Taft people are insisting that this be done, and their strength indicates that they may have their way. West Virginia, however, has instructed rarely, and the men who are opposed to the administration and Taft will make every effort to block instructions. It is regarded as extremely doubtful if any other candidate than Taft will have West Virginia support. The state committee has already endorsed the secretary of war for the presidency and practically all of the avowed candidates for the office of delegate at large have expressed their preference for Taft.

Hughes, Fairbanks, Cannon and Knox, however, are not without their supporters among the republicans of West Virginia. Senator Knox has some strength in the section of the state known as the Panhandle, which abuts on Pennsylvania. The anti-incorporation sentiment in West Virginia is decidedly strong, and Governor Hughes, because of his work in the insurance investigation, has a good many admirers here. The Fairbanks sentiment flourished for a brief while, but almost totally disappeared when Senator Scott, who was supposed to be a Fairbanks-man, openly stated that he believed Taft to be the favorite candidate among West Virginians. The Cannon strength is more or less of an unknown quantity. Several of the members of the West Virginia delegation in congress are supposed to favor the speaker, who also has some admirers among the business element of the state. But West Virginians, proximity to Ohio and the fact that the great majority of the party leaders have declared in favor of Taft are expected to carry the day for the secretary of war.

TOURNEY BEGINS FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP

Amateurs Commence Play Tonight for the International Championship.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, April 28.—Billiard admirers on both sides of the Atlantic will follow with keen interest the international amateur championship tournament, which will begin tonight in the concert hall of the Liederkreis club. The entrants include four of the most prominent amateur players of the United States and one representative from France who is of equally high standing. The Frenchman is Lucien De Rolle, who for several years has held the amateur billiard championship of France. The American contestants will be Calvin Demarest and C. F. Conklin of Chicago, J. P. Poggenberg of New York, and Edward W. Gardner of Newfield, N. J. Each of these players has in the past carried off first honors in the national amateur tournaments.

The tournament will mark a departure in amateur championship contests in this country, in that the games will be at 18.2 instead of 11.2 balls. The balls also will be a trifle larger than the American standard. Both of these changes were agreed upon as concessions to the French player.

PETTY TACTICS STILL SURVIVE

COMMON COUNCIL LIKELY TO TURN OVER TO NEW LEAF.

INITIAL MEET LAST NIGHT

Gave Hops of Better Things at the Beginning but the Harmony
Was Short-lived.

During the first half of the initial meeting of the new common council last evening a new spirit of mutual consideration, fairness, and prompt and sensible disposition of the city's business seemed to have taken possession of the aldermen. The elections were made without any of the customary log-rolling and horse-play, decisions being reached in every instance after a comparatively few minutes. There were large numbers of red carnations on the desks of the newly elected and during the recesses ancient enemies conversed pleasantly with one another and a casual observer would have been certain that all the old pettiness, bickering, intolerance, and stupidity had been permanently abandoned. But the business session, proper, was hardly underway before the same old unbecoming began to be uncovered, harpings began to fly, and alternations of courtesy were a glimmering. "Know to me and my unaltered convictions or I'll block every move you make!" was the threat that came from two or three quarters and those who do not yet recognize the right of blind personal prejudice to dictate, naturally took up the gauntlet. Judging by last night's showing, the same old factional warfare is going to prevail as heretofore, only worse.

Mayor's Annual Address.

Mayor Stewart H. Hodges in his annual address informed the council of the condition of the several departments. The status of the various funds, as set forth in the city treasurer's annual report published in the columns a fortnight ago, was reviewed and attention called to the change in the method of collecting taxes which will make it advisable for purposes of adjustment to provide for 14 instead of 12 months in the forthcoming annual levy. In discussing the fire department, the Mayor called attention to the almost absolute necessity of securing a new fire engine and asked for immediate attention to this matter. The water and lighting systems, he found, were giving general satisfaction and the excellent service of the schools and library too, filled to the efficiency of the boards. Street and walk construction were being vigorously pushed with full appreciation of the traveling public. The movement to construct a large portion of the main sewer outlet would require a bond issue and the Mayor advised the board to take to the voters the bond issue. He gave unstinted praise to the health department for its work in thoroughly cleaning alleys, purging several noxious districts, and keeping the city practically free of contagion. All the bridges excepting the Fourth avenue structure, he found to be in good condition. The fact that the city would be called upon in the course of events to build a new one there and also at Racine street, was mentioned. The parks and recreation places had admirably served their purpose and while the project of adding the Mitchell property to the chain had been defeated and it was necessary to bow to the popular will, he trusted that the interest in keeping up the pleasure grounds already laid out would not be diminished. In conclusion he reminded the aldermen that they were assembled to work in harmony toward that end. He hoped that the appointment of committees would meet with their approval.

Dullin Elected President.

Aldermen Buchholz and Sheridan were named as tellers for the elections. The first ballot to be filed was that of President of the Council and five ballots were taken. The first result was as follows: Buchholz 5, Dullin 3, Sheridan 1, and Brown 1. On the second the vote stood: Buchholz 4, Dullin 4, Sheridan 1, and Clark 1. At the end of the third ballot Ald. Sheridan mentioned in an undertone that he was not a candidate and asked his unknown friend to quit voting for him. On the fourth ballot Buchholz had 5, and Dullin 5. On the fifth Dullin received 6, Buchholz 3, and Clark 1, and election of Ald. Dullin was announced. On motion of Ald. Clark the rules of the preceding council were adopted and meeting was adjourned for early adjournment Monday, commencing on May 11.

Kerch and Sonnett Named.

On the first ballot for city engineer, C. V. Kerch received 6 votes to 3 for J. T. Hurd, and the first named was declared to be the choice. There were four ballots for street commissioner. The result of the first ballot was: James Sonnett 4, J. H. Watson 2, Peter Dullin 1, J. O'Donnell 1 and Palmer 1. On the fourth Sonnett had 7, Watson 2, and Palmer 1, and Sonnett was declared the choice. In appreciation of his election, Mr. Sonnett tendered a box of cigars after the session was over.

G. C. Waufile Health Officer.

Dr. G. C. Waufile was elected health officer on the sixth ballot. The result of the first count was: Dr. R. H. Buckmaster 3, Dr. W. C. Merritt 3, Dr. Waufile 2, and Dr. W. C. Merritt 1. Dr. Buckmaster lost one to Dr. Merritt on the second. The third stood: Waufile 2, Merritt 3, and Buckmaster 2. The fourth ballot: Waufile 4, Merritt 2, and Buckmaster 1. On the fifth Dr. Waufile had 4 votes to 2.

for each of the other candidates. On the final he received 6 to 1 each for Buckmaster, Merritt, Mann, and Dr. Clark.

One Change in Assessors.

David Conger was elected assessor for the First Ward on the first ballot. On motion the clerk cast the ballot for Bert Gage as assessor for the Second Ward; Frank L. Smith to succeed Charles B. Conrad as assessor for the Third Ward; C. K. Millmore, an assessor for the Fourth Ward; and James Clough for the Fifth Ward.

James Clough was elected janitor of the city hall on the first ballot, receiving the full quota of ten votes. On motion of Ald. Buchholz, the appointment of the two aldermen to serve on the street assessment committee was left to the Mayor and he named Aldermen Dullin and Buchholz.

Sam Brown's Salary.

After the recess Chairman Brown of the finance committee submitted his report on bills and the salary list and the same were adopted. The salary list contained an item of $30 for John Brown's services as patrolman up to April 21 but no mention of any compensation, whatever, for City Marshal Appley. The city treasurer was directed by an order to transfer $1,355.81 from the interest account to the general fund. After a widespread consultation with the members of his committee Ald. Brown introduced an order stipulating the payment of $120 to Officer Sam Brown for his services as patrolman during March and April.

Ald. Sheridan immediately wanted to know if this included the $36 which was to have been paid Officer Brown according to the provisions of an order passed at a previous meeting. City Atty. Maxfield ruled that some disposition would have to be made of the old order before any new one, such as that contemplated by Ald. Brown's motion could be passed.

City Clerk Badger explained that at the last regular meeting on April 13 the clerk was directed to draw an order in the sum of $36 payable to Officer Sam Brown for services from March 1 to April 13, upon his name being dropped from the police force. As he was not dropped from the force, the clerk had not drawn the order. Ald. Clark moved to amend Ald. Brown's motion with the proviso that "the former order for $36 be rescinded." Ald. Clark objected, insisting that parliamentary practice would not permit a motion to rescind being tacked onto such an order in the form of an amendment.

Mayor Hodges said that with the permission of the council he would put the motion to rescind the old order for $36, first, and the Brown order for $120 afterward. The motion to rescind stood 6 to 4, Aldermen Buchholz, Dullin, Rehfeld, and Sheridan voting the negative protest. City Attorney Maxfield, upon being asked for an opinion, at first ruled that a majority was sufficient to carry a motion to rescind and Mayor Hodges declared this motion carried. Afterward the City Attorney consulted the clerk and revoked his decision, stating that such a vote required a two-thirds majority. Mayor Hodges thereupon declared the motion lost. With the strongly against the proposition, Ald. Brown reluctantly withdrew his original motion.

Watt Hurlis A Javelin.

At this juncture Ald. Watt arose and scored the pusillanimous character of the opposition. "It seems to me," he said, "that there is no question about this man being entitled to pay. Why he should go on and work and then get this sort of treatment because a lot of aldermen are making war on him as a personal matter, is beyond me. The council is putting itself into a pretty cheap class and the people are getting thoroughly disgusted." The opposition was immediately stung into action by this attack.

Said Ald. Sheridan: "We're here to vote Sam Brown his salary if the City Attorney says it's legal. There is no grudge whatever. Ald. Watt better look up matters before he talks. When he does he'll find we're 'long' instead of 'short'."

(The only ruling ever made by the City Attorney on this question, in open meeting, was that the paying of the salary for the appointment was questionable, but ENTIRELY WITHIN THE DISCRETION OF THE COUNCIL.) This ruling was given at the meeting on April 13 and it was under it that the council passed the $36 order.

Perhaps an hour after the incident had closed and just before adjournment, Ald. Dullin arose and said: "I take exception to Ald. Watt's remarks about Sam Brown's salary. I want to tell Ald. Watt that it's no personal feeling with me. I'll vote for Sam Brown's salary when it's right. It's illegal as it stands now. To get his money he'll have to get it right. At the same time I feel that he is just as good a man as there is on the police force."

(At the city attorney had ruled in open meeting that there is no question of legality involved, the usual reader will have a hard time determining what all this bombast was about. Will it be "right" for the patrolman to get his pay only after he has done the double-salmon to the self-appointed guardians of "right"?)

John Brown's Bond Approved.

On motion of Chairman Dullin of the judiciary committee, the bond of P. E. Green, the plumber, was accepted. The findings of the fact and conclusions of law in the Silvercreek Park grading suits against the city were placed on file and the street assessment committee was directed to reassess the damages wrought to the Hahn, Christian, and Betman property according to the order of the circuit court. The hearing committee reported favorably on John White's petition for permission to transfer his license for a saloon at 122 W. Milwaukee St. to E. P. Reiche and the latter bonds were found in due form and accepted. Officer John Brown's bonds as City Marshal were accepted by a vote of 9 to 1, Alderman Brown dissenting. The committee on public buildings was granted further time for the consideration of a petition signed by 163 Fourth ward electors to have a suitable voting booth erected on the Webster school grounds or at some other central point.

105 New Walks.

On motion of Chairman Sheridan of the committee on highways the report of Assistant Street Commissioner Edward Smith on 105 new walks needed (mostly in the Second ward) and some traversing the frontage of as many as nine lots) was accepted. After some debate owners of property on the west side of Logan street, from Sharon to Wheeler street, were given permission to build 44-foot walks three feet from the curb line.

Ald. Brown, who sponsored the order, explained that the ravine and steep character of the banks made this special dispensation advisable. Ald. Dullin voted "No." Ald. Brown sought to have a contract let to Roessing & Co. to repair the diagonal tar and gravel walk across the Court House park from Wisconsin to Division street at a cost of $50 but Ald. Buchholz succeeded in having the matter referred to the committee on parks.

Ald. Brown also introduced an order to have the street commissioner direct the building of a standard walk along the east side of lot 51 and a part of lot 52, Dixon & Bailey's addition, on South Bluff street, accepting James Fathors' offer to dedicate the strip of land in the rear of his property which obstructs the thoroughfare to the city in consideration thereof. Both aldermen of the Third ward were anxious to get this order through so that might be served on William Bladen before he starts for Europe and an outlet afforded to Dr. Thorne and others, but Ald. Buchholz succeeded in having the matter referred to the highway committee for investigation. The city engineer was directed to furnish owners of property on the east side of Garfield avenue from Oakland to Racine street with a sidewalk grade and also prepare one for the north side of Racine street from Chatham to Palm street. The street commissioner was directed to build a standard walk in front of lots 49 and 50, Dixon & Bailey's addition, on South Bluff street, to construct brick crosswalks across Garfield avenue on the north side of Vista avenue and across South Main on the north side of Wheeler; and to sell William Brees enough paving bricks to lay a driveway on his property. An order directing the city sidewalk contractor to lay a walk across the Jefferson school grounds from Wisconsin to East street, was referred to the sidewalk inspector for investigation and report at the next meeting.

Trimming of Shade Trees.

On motion of Ald. Clark the park committee was directed to procure the necessary apparatus for trimming the shade trees in the streets and parks and employ some competent person to do the work under their supervision, in accordance with the provisions of the ordinance passed last fall. On the grounds that the duties properly belonged to some committee, Ald. O'Hara sought to block an order introduced by Ald. Sheridan to have the city clerk purchase all supplies needed at the crushing plant during the season of 1908, but his amendment was lost 1 to 5 and the original order passed 9 to 1. The city engineer was directed to prepare plans and specifications for the cement curb and gutter to be laid around city parks.

The Shanghai Judgship.

Just judges are appreciated in Shanghai, and, indeed, the need of their being men of fearless integrity may be said to increase with the square of the distance from home, since here there are many judges and possibilities and facilities of appeal, while in remote places all may depend upon the decision of a single judge. Let it be known that the American judge at Shanghai does strict and impartial justice, regardless of fear or favor, and that he is supported in so doing by the government at Washington, and every honest American accounting in those parts will feel more secure and will take greater pride in his citizenship before the world.—New York Tribune.

America's New $5,000,000 Theatre, its Prospective Manager, Grandville Barker, and His Wife, William Vanderbilt in Upper Corner.

New York, April 21.—The dream of the drama lover is about to be realized. In New York city on Sixty-second street, facing Central park, west, is about to be constructed one of the world's greatest theatres, so endowed that the manager director will have something to think about besides profit and loss. He will be able to produce the world's greatest plays regardless of expense and with only the idea of the highest art in mind. William K. Vanderbilt is one of the 20 men who are devoting time and money to this enterprise. There is a great question now, as to who the men in charge will be. Grandville Barker, who has achieved great success in the London theatrical world, a man with original ideas, is favorably spoken of. He will arrive in America some time this week and will consult with the men in charge.

Grandville Barker is a man of character, tact, will and, above all, original ideas and forethought. He naturally differs with nearly everybody and everything he comes in contact with and has his own ideas on every subject.

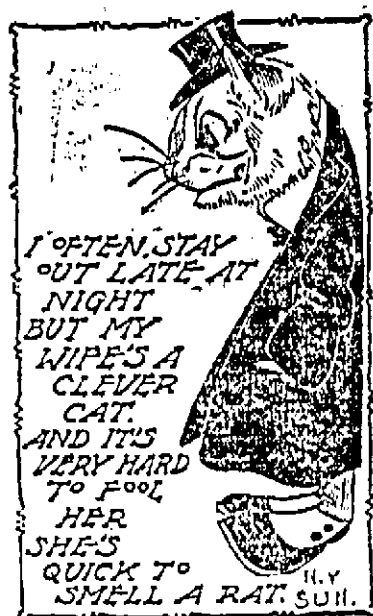

His wife shares with him many of his eccentricities. For example, in their domestic life they contend that the greatest domestic harmony can be maintained by living in separate apartments and visiting each other as they wish. They have secured separate apartments in New York and live on (drolly apart, each of them having their way to keep love young. Mr. Barker has achieved phenomenal success in London as a theatrical manager.

FINEST AGRICULTURAL BUILDING IN THE WORLD

Lansing, Mich., The Michigan Agricultural college at East Lansing is constructing the finest building in the United States devoted exclusively to agriculture. The building is to cost $200,000, and will be completed within one year. It is 190x80 feet and will be the most imposing structure on the campus.

The specifications call for its construction of Bedford stone and paving brick, with fireproof concrete floor.

construction in the interior. Stone columns and porticos will be carved as symbols of agriculture, and the front will be ornamented in every possible manner. It will be equipped with two elevators.

The new building will house the department of animal husbandry, agronomy and the experimental station. A second story stock judging pavilion, 15x110 feet, will offer a greater opportunity for work along these lines.

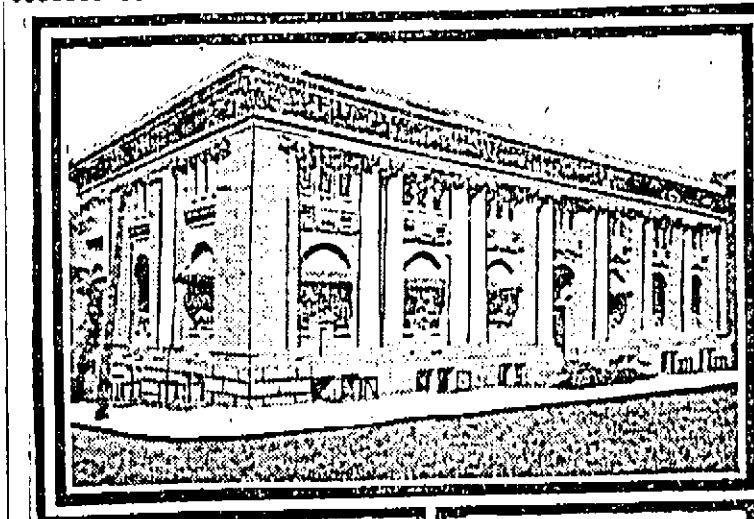

WASHINGTON'S SENATORIAL FIGHT. SENATOR ANKENY AT TOP AND REPRESENTATIVE JONES BELOW.

Senator Levi Ankeny of Washington is a candidate for reelection, and Representative Wesley L. Jones is his principal rival. Ankeny is not a public speaker; Jones is a good one. Ankeny is a business man; Jones is a lawyer. Ankeny is chairman of the senate committee on irrigation; Jones is a member of the house committee on rivers and harbors. Ankeny is a millionaire; Jones is poor.

There is extant a recapitulation of Ankeny's speeches in the senate. It is short, almost as laconic as the speeches of the old vigorous speakers of Representative Jones. The Ankeny record looks very meager. But his friends point out that he never pretended to be a public speaker; that his rise from a lumber camp to seat in the senate and the presidency of the National Bank is sufficient to show the stuff he is made of. Ankeny's friends do not disparage Jones, but on the contrary they praise him for everything except his ambition. They say that if he had only waited until Ankeny had served another term, all of Ankeny's friends would have been for him. The claim is made by Ankeny's friends that he controls the organization in Washington absolutely, and that no man could stand against him.

NEW CARNEGIE LIBRARY AT ATLANTA, GA., AND GOVERNOR HOKE SMITH.

Atlanta, Ga., Governor Hoke Smith of Georgia who was formerly secretary of the interior in the cabinet of President Cleveland, is a broad thinker and a man of action. He realizes perhaps better than others the lack of educational facilities in Georgia. According to the 1900 census Georgia had 1,181,294 white people and 1,034,821 negroes. In other words, only 53.3 per cent of Georgia's population are white. While the state has grown since 1890, both races have increased at about the same rate, for we find in 1890 53.2 were white. Georgia has an average of 37.6 people to the square mile. The density of population is greater than Maine, Minnesota, Nebraska and many of the northern and western states. In other words, Georgia is comparatively thickly populated. According to carefully compiled statistics on illiterates we find Georgia of all the states has the greatest number of illiterates. There are 158,

217 illiterates in Georgia. Governor Smith recognizes the stupendous meaning of these figures. He says that children must be educated to undertake the problems before them. One plank in the platform on which he was elected last fall was a promise to better educational facilities and he is beginning active work along this line. He is undertaking it, too, in a practical way. Georgia's chief industry is agriculture, and he is establishing a central agricultural college and local agricultural colleges in each of the eleven congressional districts especially for the education of teachers for rural schools. Recently he has been back of the agricultural educational train, which made a tour covering every district of the state. There were four cars in the train. One was fitted up as an auditorium, another for the exposition of agricultural products and implements, and others for accommodation of the staff. The tour commenced on the Southern railway and occupied five weeks, in which time it visited 170 different towns and made 375 stops, reaching about 300,000 people who inspected the exhibits of the equipment. Governor Smith is very much elated over the results of this trip. He is also preparing to establish manual training schools in the cities and towns of Georgia so as to qualify the young people for trades and for earning better wages in the factories of the state. The Carnegie library, which has just been completed at Atlanta, is giving very beneficial results in Atlanta itself, and other libraries are being installed throughout the state. This attitude of Governor Smith toward education is undoubtedly the most important step toward solving the race problem that can be undertaken, and should his policy endure Georgia will soon not only not have the greatest number of illiterates in the state, but will on the other hand be carefully educated.

ROOSEVELT'S MESSAGE

President Roosevelt has sent another of his messages to congress. His pron to say, this latest effort of the struggle does not make bitter attacks upon congress as has been customary in the past, does not refer to the much mooted question of new ships for the navy, but deals directly with legislation that the President deems advisable and which he urges upon congress to enact before adjournment. It is one of the most temperate state papers that has come from the White House for many months. He deals directly with the subject in hand and handles it in such a manner that it can not be questioned. The following are a few paragraphs culled from different portions of the address as significant of the purpose of the document at this time. The speech in full will be found on another page.

"Those in whose judgment we have most right to trust are of the opinion that while much of the complaint against the use of the injunction is unwarranted, yet that it is unquestionably true that in a number of cases this power has been used to the grave injury of the rights of the laboring men."

"The process of injunction in labor disputes should only be used when there is the clearest necessity for it."

"Every far-sighted patriot should protect first of all against the growth in this country of class consciousness."

"A class grievance left too long without remedy breeds class consciousness."

"The anti-trust law, though it worked some good, because anything is better than anarchy and complete absence of regulation, nevertheless has proven in many respects not merely inadequate but mischievous."

"My personal belief is that ultimately we shall have to adopt a national incorporation law."

"The powers and scope of the interstate commerce commission, and of any similar body, such as the bureau of corporations, should be greatly enlarged so as to meet the requirements of the present day."

"The decision of the supreme court in the Minnesota and North Carolina cases illustrate how impossible is a dual control of national commerce."

"The nation alone can act with effectiveness and wisdom; it should have control both of the business and of the agent, for any attempt to separate this control must result in grotesque absurdity."

"So far as labor is engaged in production only its claims to be exempted from the anti-trust law are sound."

"We should sanction neither a boycott nor a blacklist which would be illegal at common law."

STILL SQUABBLE
 Alderman Watt from the third ward called the turn on the charged aldermen last evening when he said the people were tired of the petty bickering relative to police matters which had been incited for personal motives by the aldermen in question. The people are tired of it. The opposition of the council to the action of the fire and police commission, the holding up of Patrolman Sam Brown's pay and the election of John Brown as city marshal are all part and parcel of a scheme of a few aldermen to make themselves dominant in city affairs.

Inciting their action upon one interpretation of the city charter they have raised the standard of injured innocence and behind the veil of trying to be within the law have enacted a farce comedy which might be entitled "Who is Boss?"

Acting under the state law, which proscribes for such things, the fire and police commission elected George Appleby, Chief of Police of the city of Janesville.

The council objects to the word Chief of Police. They would rather that official be called city marshal and taking this interpretation of the law as their guide in riotous indignation, refused to accept the hands of Chief of Police Appleby and elected John Brown city marshal.

Recently a case was taken to the supreme court in which the word compensation and salary were at issue. They performed the same duties and the court held them to be the same in meaning. A chief of police and a city marshal perform the same duties and according to prominent attorneys mean the same thing. But on this little difference the council seems fit to split.

They have held up the pay of Officer Sam Brown. They hold that he is not entitled to salary or compensation, while working previous to the discovery of a section of the law which said he must reside in the city for three years previous to appointment.

Another quibble.

Another action of the aldermen who would be boss of the police department for their own purposes.

As Alderman Watt said, the people are tired of this boys' play. It says too much of the actions of irresponsible kids jealous of each other and does not belt men elected by the people to govern a city like Janesville.

Get down to business, brother aldermen. Show yourselves to be men working for the city's best interests, not to further your own personal ends.

Alderman Clark's tree-trimming ordinance is to be enforced and the citizens who love a city beautiful should aid in this undertaking rather than object. Alderman Clark's ideas are a hindrance when the work is completed and the appearance of the city thoroughfares and parks will be as they are at present. It is not the plan of the men behind the movement to ruthlessly cut down trees or lop off large branches, but to add nature and beautify the citizens generally.

Would it not have been better to have secured the opinions of a half dozen good attorneys in the city relative to the state law governing police matters than to have listened to a contradictory opinion written by a man who will not say yes or no to a straight question when asked on the floor of the council, but gives another opinion behind closed doors of the committee rooms?

Now comes the story from Madison to the effect that the democrats are going in to help nominate Sherbro Becker of Milwaukee for governor in the hopes of defeating him with a good Norwegian democrat at the polls. This is all right, but where are they going to find enough democrats to do all this?

The holding up of Patrolman Sam Brown's pay is a bit of revenge on the part of the council. Sam Brown did not how to the would-be controllers of the destiny of the police department and hence must suffer. Just spite work, that's all, so that the public may know the council is still master of the situation.

The Gazette greets the new city health officer, Dr. Wauke, with pleasure. That he will administer the duties of his office without fear or favor is certain and the Gazette hopes his hearty support in any measures he may set on foot to keep Janesville a clean, healthy city.

Now, that the spring elections are over and civic politics have quieted down, delegates elected to the national convention of both parties, it is about time to hear the opening guns of the congressional, senatorial and gubernatorial campaigns.

It is now said that all the delegates to the national republican convention at Chicago are second choice party men. That was what was expected and what the public generally was given to believe they were before they were elected.

Street Commissioner James Bennett has been re-elected. He has proven in the past a painstaking, careful superintendent who has administered the duties of his office carefully and with credit to the city.

This last touch of winter was not appreciated by the taxpayers of the country at all. They much prefer the balmy air of spring to the belated blasts of winter.

So the Senators have again defeated Roosevelt's idea of a larger and bigger navy by defeating his measure for four new warships.

There is yet time for the spring flowers to begin blooming and still be within the time limit of spring.

A general cleaning up of the yards and gardens would work wonders in Janesville.

Way of Mankind.

"Do man who is always out of a job," said Uncle Eben, "is somehow liable to have do most exacting opinions about how other people ought to do their work!"

BEAUTIFY YOUR FACTORIES.
 Valuable as an Advertising Feature and Beneficial to Employees.

Scores of newspaper articles are written about improvement of public streets; magazines galore are published in regard to beautifying homes and grounds; prizes are offered to certain classes of people as an incentive toward gardening back yards; public playgrounds are established and school yards tastefully kept. We pass judgment on all these things and call them good, say the Los Angeles Times. In this land of sunshine, where vegetation grows with almost no cultivation and where to beautify at least the exterior and grounds of our manufacturing would require so little effort, this should be done not only for the moral and aesthetic influence on the employees, but really as an advertising feature, always showing tourists that even working shops can be made beautiful by nature in our California.

Not one but many travelers have remarked about the vine covered water tank (practical thing truly) at a certain station near Los Angeles on the Salt Lake railroad. The eye and mind are rested at seeing a bit of greenery there. The electric power houses stationed at intervals all the way from Pomona valley to several thousand feet above in San Antonio canyon show what can be done in simple landscape gardening in waste places. Every weary climber coming around a bend in the trail up there among the mountains can assure you that the vision of blooming flowers, well kept lawn and maybe a fountain is a welcome sight.

The writer has in mind two factories, one so pretty and refreshing that the passerby thinks it must be a pleasure to sit near the low open windows in summer and glance out occasionally from the work of cutting leather and hammering tools. For it is a shoe factory in Holland, Mich., to which I refer, to a plot of fresh green grass. That glance does not detract from the work, but makes the fingers more nimble and the mind more clear. Must we of the golden west go back east to find the beautiful in nature combined with utility in supplying the needs of our bodies? Can we have no such ornamental practical factories of our own? Another, perhaps more pretentious, is the home of the famous Rockwood pottery in Cincinnati. Do you doubt that the influence of these beautiful surroundings on the artists who decorate this ware works out through their active fingers? Our ground is as fertile, our workmen as appreciative, our own minds as aesthetic as any in the east. Let us look to our factories, at least to the extent of improving them by the addition of a few clinging vines to hide and soften the glare of walls and the harsh, conventional outlines of the buildings.

Town Booming Funds.
 Thirteen cities and towns in the Pacific northwest are actively advertising their attractions and resources in the expectation of increasing their population and building up the agricultural communities around them. Spokane, Wash., spends from $40,000 to $50,000 a year in publicity work. Tacoma, in the same state, which duplicated the famous slogan, "Watch Tacoma grow," at the Lewis and Clark exposition in 1905, spends $10,000 a year in making the town grow. Portland, Ore., uses $18,000 for systematic publicity and finds that it pays. Winnipeg, in Manitoba, finds it profitable to spend $17,000 annually in advertising. Kansas City, Mo., recently inaugurated a campaign of municipal advertising. Hundreds of smaller towns and cities are doing likewise. "It pays to advertise."

 In laying out for street planting let the first stakes be set at the street crossings, says Park and Cemetery. When the planting streets also are to be planted, place two stakes at each corner about thirty feet from the point of intersection of the curb line on each street. ## VAETER UND SOEHNE PLEASES AUDIENCE

German Play at Myers Theater Last Night Was Well Received.

The entertainment "Vaeter und Soehne," presented at the Myers Grand last evening, played to an enthusiastic German audience.

The story was well told and the plot was very clever. The scene was laid in Berlin in the apartments of Friedrich Rommel, a wealthy German butcher, whose ambition was to have his son Wilhelm succeed him and to marry his niece, a budding young woman with an interest in the business. Wilhelm's ambitions, however, laid in another direction. He desired to become a student and had enrolled with the National university for a term of years without his father's knowledge. The curtain rises upon the homecoming of Wilhelm. He meets Gustsha, the niece, and they quickly come to an understanding. Gustsha is in love with Rudolph, the son of Glupner, a statesman and landowner. Glupner's ambitions for his son are that he become a statesman and succeed him. Rudolph, however, does not have any desire to learn and though he is a man of almost middle age has repeatedly failed in his examinations at the university. Upon Wilhelm's refusal to marry, his father then disinherit him and to marry him back into his good graces and allow him to pursue his studies, while Gustsha and her husband join forces with Rommel in business.

The parts were all well filled. The audience was rather small for the large number of Germans in Janesville and it was expected that more would turn out.

The players with the exception of Mr. Kleins, the manager, and a few others are direct from Germany. They sign contracts for one year and return after the season is over.

SENATE SUPPORTS ACTION OF HOUSE

OVERWHELMING VOTE AGAINST FOUR NEW BATTLESHIPS.

NAVAL BILL IS PASSED

Leaders Have Agreed to Authorize
Two Big Battleships Each Year —Politics Rules in the House.

Washington, Apr. 23.—By an overwhelming vote, President Roosevelt's four battleship program failed in the senate Monday, just as it did in the house. The amendment for four battleships was introduced by Senator Piles, and the fight for its adoption was led by Senator Beveridge.

Twenty-three votes were cast for the increased program, the number largely being made up of recently elected senators. Fifty senators voted to support the house and the recommendation of the senate naval committee in favor of building only two battleships.

The debate on the battleship amendment lasted three days, to the exclusion of all other matters. It was begun by Senator Beveridge with an eloquent appeal for the support of the president and a suggestion that the larger navy might be needed for war. Members of the committee upbraided the Indiana senator for this veiled hint of war with another country, and sought to make him admit that he meant Japan. At times the discussion came near becoming acrimonious, especially sharp exchanges occurring between Senators Aldrich and Beveridge. The former's references to Mr. Beveridge excited Senator Smith of Michigan to protest against the senate chamber being "made a slaughter house for the young senator from Indiana."

For Two Battleships a Year.
It was developed by Senator Allison during the debate that there is a well-defined understanding among the senate leaders for the authorization of two battleships each year, until the American navy is regarded as sufficient to meet any demands that may be made upon it.

As finally passed, the bill carries appropriations aggregating $123,115,652, and provides for the construction of two battleships and two colliers, and the purchase of three additional colliers, the construction of submarines and other necessary craft, and increases the pay of officers and enlisted men, as well as increasing both the pay and the strength of the marine corps.

House Couldn't Hear Message.
The keyed-up house rules, to meet the Democratic filibuster, reacted to shut out the message President Roosevelt had prepared and planned to have read in that body Monday. It was found impossible to untangle the snarl of motions to get the house out of committee of the whole and back into the same committee Tuesday, and also to recess until that time, and finally to cover the point of no quorum long enough to have the president's message received, much less read.

It was with an eye single to political capital that the house proceeded throughout the day. The little that was accomplished was made the vehicle for political discussion. A resolution was passed authorizing the news print paper investigating committee to spend the necessary funds to carry on the investigation, but not until the expediency of that investigation had been discussed.

The sundry civil appropriation bill was taken up and three of the eight hours decided on for general debate were used. Mr. Taft showed that the house had cut appropriations $119,000,000.

IMPORTANT RULING IN IOWA.

Attorney General Says Corporations Cannot Retail Liquor.

Des Moines, Ia., Apr. 28.—In passing on the application of the Co-operative Company of Sioux City for a state permit to issue stock, Attorney General Myers Monday ruled that such a permit should not be granted because the proposed corporation expected to engage in the retailing of intoxicating liquors. He declared that it is clear from the quiet laws of the state the legislature never intended that a corporation should engage in the retail sale of intoxicating liquors, but that the laws contemplate that the business shall be confined to individuals solely, so that there may be individual, not corporate, responsibility under the law. The decision is one of the most important in years and will precipitate much litigation.

A Kissing Acquaintance.
As Rev. Edward Everett Hale, chaplain of the United States senate, was walking along a Boston street, in company with a friend, he was suddenly accosted most familiarly and affectionately by a woman who, without further warning, proceeded to throw her arms round his neck and kiss him on both cheeks.

Then followed a brief conversation—gushing on the woman's part, guarded on Dr. Hale's, who confined himself to discreet inquiries as to the welfare of the woman's family; were they well?—and living in the same place?—and so forth.

Finally the woman tore herself away, and the venerable divine turned to his companion.

"I should have been glad to introduce you; but I did not know the lady's name," he said, with his gentle smile. "To tell the truth," he added, reflectively, "I didn't even know I had a kissing acquaintance with her."—Sunday Magazine.

TENDS TO PROVE TRUST IN PAPER

MUCH EVIDENCE IS SUBMITTED TO HOUSE COMMITTEE.

REPLIES OF PUBLISHERS

Unity of Action and Arbitrary Restriction of Output Are Shown —Chairman Mann Raps the Evidence.

Washington, Apr. 28.—Evidence tending to show that there has been unity of action among paper mills in the matter of fixing the price of paper, as well as an understanding that none of them shall sell to the customer of another; that contracts for paper could not be obtained for a period longer than one year, and that the mills had arbitrarily shut down or restricted their output, was presented Monday by John Norris of the American Newspaper Publishers' association, before the house committee which is investigating the price of print paper as affected by the tariff and the question of whether or not there is a combination in restraint of trade.

Mr. Norris was the only witness and he was on the stand the entire day. The hearing was abruptly ended shortly before five o'clock by a call of the house and as Chairman Mann announced adjournment until ten o'clock Tuesday, he said to Mr. Norris: "Your allies," referring to Mr. Williams and his Democratic colleagues, "are forcing us to stop the hearing in order to be present in the house to make a quorum."

Mann Raps the Evidence.
The evidence which Mr. Norris offered was in the shape of replies by members of the publishers' association to a number of queries propounded to them by the association.

This evidence included a statement of a variation in the price of paper of from two dollars a ton to $17 a ton, and induced Mr. Mann to make the assertion that it disclosed just the reverse of the contention that there is a combination to maintain uniform prices. Mr. Norris, however, declared that it was the avowed purpose of the paper makers to regulate the price at the time of the hearing before the Dingley committee in 1896, and he contended that their present course was in harmony with that avowed.

Towards the close of the day, Mr. Norris laid before the committee a large number of replies of newspapers to the query: "Have agents or mills withdrawn quotations previously made to you or have they neglected or refused to quote prices to you, or have they changed previous offers?"

Replies Sustain Contention.
These replies all tended to show that some paper companies had declined to make offers, others had withdrawn or changed their quotations, and others had announced their product entirely sold.

In the case of the Chicago Daily Journal it was stated that no broker or representative of any paper mill had called on that paper since June 1, 1906, to quote prices or ask for their business. "It has seemed to us," the Journal wrote, "that there is an understanding that we are Shuboygan's customer and will have to stick to that mill." Efforts to obtain prices elsewhere, the Journal wrote, were without avail.

Operation on Cummins' Father.
Des Moines, Ia., Apr. 28.—Thomas L. Cummins, father of A. B. Cummins, underwent an operation for hernia Monday morning at Mercy hospital. Considering his advanced age, 86 years, he rallied rapidly, and Dr. McCarthy, who performed the operation, stated that Mr. Cummins would recover his normal health.

From the Philosophy of "Old Nathan Knitgoods."

I've never run across very many men in my life who weren't as fuzzy as a lot of old women on the question of underwear.

The point is, they buy the wrong kind to start with and then get it either too big or too little—puff and sweat and blow when they put it on, and "kick" about it eternally all the while they have it on.

And yet these same men are sane, rational creatures on every other subject.

I've been making knit underwear now for quite a "spell," and making it according to all the laws of common sense, besides.

The best underwear in the world is the kind that makes you forget it entirely when you have it on, and its name is Lewis.

The only times when a man ought to have to think of his underwear is when he puts it on in the morning and removes it at night.

The Lewis "Janesville" line of union suits is made to give the same satisfaction as the higher priced hand knit goods. Prices, $1.50, $2, $2.50 and $3.
